CHARLEROI LICENSE REHEARINGS REFUSED

Judge McIlvaine Turns Down Petition For Local Man

ONE FOR THE MYFORD

Friends of G. M. Fellow Present It--Anti-Saloon League Request Denied

In an opinion handed down Tuesday Judge J. A. McIlvaine refused to grant a rehearing of the license application of George M. Fellows at the Hotel Myford in Charleroi that was asked for in several petitions presented to the court Monday. At the same time the court also refused a hearing asked for by the attorneys of the Anti-Saloon League in the matter of the applications of W. H. Coles of the Wilbur and W. H. Zellers of the Hotel Charleroi.

In reviewing the Fellows' application it developed that the transfer from George Myford to George M. Fellows was granted by Judge Taylor when the latter was sick and had evidently overlooked a court rule not to grant license transfers between sessions of the license court except in some special instances. This rule was made to stop the speculative traffic in licenses, which it is claimed is practiced more or less throughout the state. Investigation showed that the Hotel Myford was assessed at $6,000, that including furnishings it was probably worth $12,000, but it was sold by George Myford to George Fellows for $37,000, the big valuation being evidently based on the receipts of the bar on the assumption of license being granted from year to year.

In his opinion Judge McIlvaine says that in the first place the applicant is out of court, and until he or his attorney makes application no license would be granted on the application of petitioners alone. In the second place it is against the rules of the court to grant rehearings; that if the applicant wanted to follow the analogy of the common pleas courts in applying for a new trial, he should have made motion four days after the decree of refusal was filed. In the third place the court states that it believes the decision was based upon the facts as presented; that if the petitioners for the necessity had presented their arguments at the specified time the result might have been different, but the additional evidence was not filed then and the court cannot admit it afterward.

No opinion was given by the court in the matter of the applications of the Anti-Saloon League attorneys for a rehearing in the other two cases, and they were dismissed without comment.

Registrars at the Polls

Voters Registering Today For Spring Primary--One Change Effected

Registrars in the various precincts are setting today at the polls to receive registration of voters, but it is stated there has been no eager response for the announcement so far. Voters who voted at the fall primary and the fall election do not have to register, for their names are already on the books. Those who did not vote at that time and who are not registered must register before they will be given another vote. Those who desire to change their party preference also must enroll today or tomorrow. The registrars are sitting at the polls from 9 to 12 in the morning, 2 to 5 in the afternoon and from 7 to 9 in the evening. One change has been made, that of the registrar resigning and Frank Kline having been appointed in his stead.

CELEBRATE THE DAY OF ST. PATRICK

Local Hibernians Pay Homage to Memory of Patron Saint

SHOW IS BIG FEATURE

Irish wit and melody reigned supreme Tuesday night at the time of the St. Patrick day celebration at Turner Hall under the auspices of Division No. 2, Ancient Order of Hibernians. The Irish, presenting an Irish minstrel show, paid due homage to the memory of their patron saint and the shamrock in all its glory and with all its pretty sentiment was fittingly eulogized.

Sprigs of green representing shamrocks, green flowers and even emblematic Irish hats were everywhere conspicuous. On the stage were decorative effects, of course, in green.

The Irish minstrel show was as enjoyable as it was unique, and that is saying a lot. Hon. William Feeney was the intercomer, and the Irish jokes cracked and Irish songs sung at his bidding were met with tremendous applause. They were happy, those Irish.

Some of the good old time songs were sung in the choruses. Among them were "The Last Rose of Summer," "Peggy and Her Low Back Car," "Come Back to Erin," "The Minstrel Boy," "Believe Me If All Those Endearing Young Charms," Continued on fourth page.

FIFTH STREET SCHOOL TO PRESENT PROGRAM

Entertainment to be Given at High School Auditorium Thursday Night--Matinee For Children in the Afternoon

Plans are being perfected today for the second of a series of school entertainments to be given at the high school auditorium Thursday evening, beginning at 8 o'clock. Tomorrow night's entertainment will be given by the pupils of the Fifth street school building. The first entertainment of the series was given last Friday and was attended by a crowd of about 1,000 people.

In order to prevent the excessive crowding which was the order of last Friday Prof. T. L. Pollock, superintendent of schools, and others in charge of the entertainment have formulated a plan, whereby a matinee will be given for children in the afternoon of Thursday at 2 o'clock. Unless they are with their parents or guardians, children will not be admitted to the night entertainment.

The purpose of the entertainment is to secure money for the purchase of Victrolas for the schools. It is the intention if possible to get Victrolas to use in the instruction in music and for other purposes.

The program for Thursday night's performance will be interesting, with most of the time devoted to musical numbers. The program will be as follows:

Chorus--"If we were you and you were us."
Rose drill--By 32 girls.
Chorus--"I've got the Mumps," first, second and third grade pupils.
Operetta--"The Land of Nod." Playlet--"Uncle Sam's Brigade."
For the operetta the following cast of characters has been selected: Jessie, Evelyn Warrenford; Minnie, Mildred Wilks; Fairy Queen, Leah Patterson; Limpy, Aubrey Daniel; Hoop La, Harry Clark; Judge Scar-tarments to be given at the high school auditorium Thursday evening, beginning at 8 o'clock. Tomorrow night's entertainment will be given by the pupils of the Fifth street school building. The first entertainment of the series was given last Friday and was attended by a crowd of about 1,000 people.

COMPARATIVELY FEW FAILURES SHOWN BY TESTS OF REGULATIONS

To test the general observance of rules on the Pennsylvania railroad, 5,961,732 observations were made and reported in 1913, with 8,129 failures, showing a record of 99.9 per cent perfect. These tests included a great variety of violations, from employees reporting late to smoking on duty, using locomotive whistles unnecessarily, leaving headlights burning in day time, using a foot to adjust couplers, going between cars to repair leaks in air brake hose without notifying train crew, placing torpedoes where persons are liable to be injured by them, and the use of kinds of observations were made. Exactly 784,675 observations were made as to the use of intoxicants by employees, and only 158 cases required discipline.

The Ben Greet Players will present Shakespeare's "As You Like It" in the Normal Chapel, California, Thursday evening, March 19, at 7:30. Down river patrons can make the 9:40 train at California. Admission 50c. Great opportunity. Ben Greet himself will play. 207-t3

New Tipple Being Built

Work at Black Diamond Proceeding Rapidly--Mine May Operate Next Week

Work on the construction of the railroad tipple at the Black Diamond mine of the Monongahela River Consolidated Coal and Coke company is proceeding rapidly and it is thought that it will be in readiness for use next week, so that the mine can be started. When the railroad tipple is completed and the mine is started, then work will be put under way for the construction of a new river tipple. Both the railroad and the river tipples were destroyed by fire and a heavy loss entailed recently. Industrial conditions are improving and there is a good demand for coal, hence the reason for haste. One hundred or more Charleroi men are employed at the mine when it is in operation.

BAD TASTE IN MOUTH AT DONORA

Supper Given by Church There Brings Business For Doctors

JENKINS ON JOB NOW

Investigations are being made through the agency of John Jenkins special agent for the state dairy and food department into the alleged poisoning of close to 500 people at a chicken and waffle supper at the United Presbyterian church at Donora Saturday night. Much suffering was the result of the poisoning which it is believed came from some of the articles of food. For a time some lives were thought to be in danger. For once Donora did not have enough doctors.

The supper was largely attended, the waffles being furnished by a Pittsburg caterer. It is supposed that he placed an excessive quantity of some substance, probably rochelle salts in the waffle batter to make it "light." At any rate practically every person who partook of the supper became ill. Most of them were not affected until Sunday and some did not become ill until Monday. Pure Food Inspector John Jenkins secured samples of waffles, chicken and other edibles used and took them to Pittsburg for a chemical analysis.

Domestic Troubles Bring on Supposed Attempt at Suicide

RAZOR IS IMPLEMENT

Dog Stands Guard While Suffering Woman Hacks at Her Throat

Domestic troubles nearly brought on a tragedy today, with the victim an aged and gray haired woman. Mrs. J. Vezzetta is the woman and she is now in the Charleroi-Monessen hospital, suffering from severe cuts about the throat that in the agony of her mental suffering she inflicted herself.

Mrs. Vezzetta has to some extent been the victim of cruel circumstances. Some weeks ago her husband was arrested on a statutory charge brought as the result of disclosures of alleged improprieties in which the man's own young daughter was said to be a principal. There were unusual phases in the case, but he received ready sympathy for many believed he was not guilty. Subsequently he was placed on trial at the county court, but when the jury received the case, it proceeded to a disagreement, so that the man had to go back to prison temporarily to await further action.

All this time his wife had been living at their little home near the reservoir back of Oakland avenue. They owned the pretty little residence and had been happy until the shadow of trouble darkened their threshold. Then Mrs. Vezzetta's health began to fail. She is a woman who from her appearance is close to 60 years of age and her suffering began to tell on her.

This morning apparently she was driven nearly to distraction by the complication of affairs. Then she went to an outhouse after having procured a razor. Calling the family dog there she stationed him at her feet and with door closed, it is supposed began to end her life by hacking at her throat with the razor. Soon neighbors became apprized of something wrong happening and soon they discovered her there with the faithful canine standing guard. Then Burgess S. L. Woodward and Chief of Police C. W. Albright who had been summoned came. The dog was pulled away and the woman taken care of. She was cold and had lost much blood. She was brought to the lockup where Dr. H. J. Repman and Dr. H. H. Hill gave her medical attention after which she was removed to the hospital.

At the police station it seemed as if the woman was convinced that she was going to die and was sorry. Her son, a lad of about 16 years had been called away from work. He seemed to think too his mother was about to die and their tears mixed on her rough couch as he bent over her, whispering comforting words of filial love. The scene was affecting. Her gray hairs and worn face showing its lines of care and suffering added to the appearance of grim tragedy's visitation. The ten- Continued on fourth page.

UNUTILIZED RESOURCES.

In times of financial and industrial stress municipalities have created public work in order to give employment to persons out of employment.
The idea was to temporarily tide over those who were willing to work, but who could not get employment for the time being. Lately the idea is gaining in some quarters that the state and government should regularly provide work at good wages for the unemployed. Certain political organizations even demand this, although there is a woeful lack in production of the necessities of life, as well as ample opportunity that is as yet unutilized.

All over the country there is a big shortage in the meat supply, beef, mutton, veal, pork, poultry. Not nearly enough eggs are produced to supply the demand, so that the product is now being imported to this country from even China and Russia.
Fruit and vegetables are always scarce and dear, while milk and butter are among the most costly necessities. Yet there is scarcely a state in the union but what has enough unutilized land to produce enough food for all its inhabitants and to furnish enough employment for all the idle persons within its borders.

A recent survey of these resources showed that within one hundred miles of St. Louis, one of the big centers of population in the United States was over a million acres of unutilized land, much of it in the same condition as when the pioneers first occupied the country. In our own state of Pennsylvania we had according to the figures of the last census 1,631,574 acres of unimproved land—practically every acre of which is arable and capable of producing something. In Washington twenty-four of the same census figures revealed 24-571 acres of unimproved land, idle resources, capable of sustaining life and furnishing employment to all the idle persons in the country.

With all of the available resources there should be no clamor for work for mere work's sake—labor created just to give employment, and which has to be paid by the taxpayers. We believe it is a function of the state to provide for the proper utilization of resources by the people, but where their labor and efforts will be productive. Until every resource and productive opportunity is utilized the state should not compel the taxpayers to furnish work as an end instead of a means.

A CLEAN CUT STATEMENT

Those who read Dr. M. G. Brumbaugh's statement announcing his candidacy for the Republican nomination for governor, cannot help but be impressed by its tone of sincerity as well as by its recognition of an awakened public conscience that demands better and more efficient public service. The declaration rings true, and backed by a man of Dr. Brumbaugh's character and standing, cannot help but impress Republicans with its sincerity of purpose.

Dr. Brumbaugh is an educator of the administrative type that has achieved splendid practical results in his wide field of labor. As superintendent of the Philadelphia public schools he has been brought face to face with practically every social and civic phase of life, which he has recognized and solved most satisfactorily with the means at his command. He is as progressive as the most radical of the leaders in the so-called Progressive political movement, and his selection as a standard bearer by the Republicans of the state would no doubt rally to his support those Republicans who left the party because of the alleged conservative policies of the past. Dr. Brumbaugh will make a strong, clean cut candidate, and as the standard bearer of the Republican party for governor would be second to none in character, experience and ability.

Dr. G. M. Brumbaugh, who is a candidate for the Republican nominatime Dr. Brumbaugh was on the facan instructor at the Washington highly regarded.

PROPOSES INCREASE OF PARCEL POST LIMIT

Postmaster General Burleson has ter, eggs, fruits, vegetables, poultry and other articles in parcels weighing from 20 to 50 pounds may be amendment provides that parcels

JOKE CLEARLY ON LANDLORD

Tenant's Somewhat Mean Way of Getting His Contract for New York Flat Broken.

One owner of a big apartment house in New York learned a new trick to his sorrow. He did not mind the money loss as much as the neat way he "fell for it" led by the artful tenant.

It seems a man who had signed a year's lease on an apartment in this place bought a house at the beginning of the summer and wanted to move into it, but knew that the landlord could hold him to his contract if the flat was vacated. So he said nothing, but went to work effectively.

One Sunday morning about five, just when every one was enjoying his best nap, a huge machine for canned music began operations in this wicked man's flat. Coon songs, ragtime, Irish rows, everything which would set the nerves on edge vibrated out in an ear-splitting noise that filled through the building. Tenants turned over, swore, got up and went to the telephone to call the landlord. Hot and heavy came in the complaints and the poor man rushed down to the apartment.

Dashing up to the room from which came the avalanche of sound, he was admitted.

"What in the name of the sacred codfish do you mean by kicking up all this racket on Sunday morning and rousing every one from sleep?" he demanded of the tenant of the offending flat.

"Well," replied the flat man with a provoking smile, "I guess it is my flat, and the law says I can do as I wish in my own house."

"This is not your house," roared the landlord, and I wish you to clear out at once."

"Certainly," replied the flat man, "I will move tomorrow. You are breaking the contract yourself. Many thanks—I have just bought a home in the suburbs."

REALLY USED COTTON BALES

Popular Idea Concerning Battle of New Orleans Has Been Found to Be Correct.

Interest in the slumbering cotton-bale theory of the battle of New Orleans was aroused by the finding of a water-color picture map of the original battle plan in an abandoned trunk in the cellar of the St. Charles hotel.
Little is known about the drawing or the other contents of the trunk which has remained unnoticed for years in a dark corner.

Five veterans of the battle have added their signatures to the remarkable map to attest the fact that it is a true representation of the battle plan as made under the direction of Andrew Jackson by his military engineer, Lt. LaCotte. It shows a line of cotton bales which a marginal note says was 1,000 feet long with a prolongment extending 600 feet into the woods. Some historians deny the story about the use of cotton bales.

The five veterans who say they fought behind cotton bales were Joseph St. Cyr, Jean Lamothe, P. J.
Laplace, Charles Raymond and Jean Gervais. Pen pictures of these men appear in the footnotes.

The finding of the picture is "immense," says the New Orleans Item, as it will be of service for the staging of the battle, which is to be one of the leading features of the Exposition of Big Ideas.

This is of well-known men must wear in 1914 clinging garments—don't it? Because some of us must either adopt pads or endure the mockery of the masses while parading in the master masculinity. And some of us will lose a large subject of converthis loss of critical opportunity is like-

If the tax on doors and windows disappears in France with the new fiscal reform, the archaeologists say the Paris paraders will not regret it, for it was more than an artistic misdeed.
When it was created more than a centhe provinces, sought to diminish the imposed tax. Little rural windows were made out of the "grandes bourgeoises," and there was much talk of the detriment to art and health there-ancient edifices there are often discovered magnificent windows often of the and the damage is irreparable. This was one incident in the window tax that the legislators of the revolution-from over one shoulder down to entwine waist and hips. I have seen a rope caught up into the hair over one temple with a tall aigrette ornament.

Girdling cheek and neck, the rope was looped down to the corse, where it wandered about in a most capricious way, enhancing the folds and frills of the frock across the bust. The woman who wore her pearls in this way had also another long loop rope about her neck. This hung to her knees."

"Needless to say this vogue for lavish use of pearl rope could be indulged in by only a few women if the real article were used in their make-up.
But imitation pearls come now so perfect, not only in color and sheen but also in weight, that often a most expert gem appraising eye would be deceived by them."

"No gem is so generally becoming as the pearl. It beautifies a beautiful woman and does not mock at the lack of beauty in a plain woman, as other stones do. It treats a poor complexion with such kindness that somehow the complexion brightens to a near approach to beauty by its exquisite touch. It responds to all the fair loveliness of youth and softens age as by magic. It blends with any costume, any color and fabric. A simple frock loses none of its simplicity of tone if pearls are worn with it. An elaborate frock does not become overelaborate with pearls as an accessory."

"Pearls may be worn at simple occasions and not give the wearer a jewel-loaded look. They may be worn at the most formal occasion and add to the festiveness of attire."

"Is a Scrape."

The expression, "to get into a scrape," referred at one time to any one who fell into a deep rut in the forest. When the deer run wild in the forest they frequently cut deep gullies among the trees, due to their constantly running backward and forward over the same ground. The cuts so made in the forest were known as deer "scrapes," and it sometimes happened that a woodman fell into them, sometimes to his great danger, for the deer frequently quite deep.
Hence the phrase "to get into a scrape" originally meant to fall into a deer scrape.

CHARLEROI BASEBALL MEN BUSY

Baseball affairs in Charleroi will hold the boards within a few weeks more, when Playing Manager Charles M. O'Day and President Paul B. Wreath get down to activity from the Charleroi end. Both are active now but only Wreath has been in town, and that only for a short time.

President Wreath says O'Day, who is one of the scrappiest and liveliest sort of managers that ever won a pennant, is signing up players. Just who O'Day has signed is a matter purely for conjecture, but here is what President Wreath says in a letter to the Mail: "O'Day has lined on several good players, one of whom is a left handed pitcher with a good record. O'Day is a great believer in right handed hitters and left handed pitchers and is working along this line in signing up a team."

President Wreath gives out the information that some of the best players of the Charleroi section will be given chances on the team, and he asks them to address him at Newark, N. J., at 29 W. Kinney street. He also states that while he has the ball park leased for the rest of the year, that does not mean that the Charleroi Independents are not to use the grounds while the regular team is out of town. On the contrary he will only be too glad to permit them to use the field.

He states that he expects to book some exhibition games with the Charleroi Independents if the Independents wish. However the first exhibition game will be with the Pittsburg Independents.

Along with other news President Wreath sends some clippings concerning his new manager, Charles O'Day. From the general trend, it seems that O'Day must be the same kind of amanager that Muggsy McGraw is--the Irish kind. O'Day is about 29 or 30 years old. His home is in Decatur, Ill., and he has been playing ball for about 11 or 12 years. Here is what one Indianapolis, Ind., writer says of him: "He is an excellent judge of a ball player's ability, a strict disciplinarian and one of the scrappy leaders who will take a chance at anything. He is a close student of baseball and works to pull off the unexpected stunt on the opposing team. He is an infielder, and played second base with Newark." This was written of O'Day a couple or three years ago when he was being considered an eligibility for the managerial position with the Indianapolis American Association club.

Arch Osborne, the Charleroi man who has twirled in all kinds of company, and managed various teams, gives O'Day a good recommendation, knowing him personally. He says O'Day is a good man.

MANY CONVERTS AT BIG COUNTY SEAT REVIVAL

The Fife brothers, an evangelistic team, who have been conducting a campaign in Washington, closed the five weeks of their campaign with Sunday's services, at which a free-will offering amounting to $1,240.44 was taken up. Probably $1,000 more was given at the two concerts given by the evangelists, who are both musicians of note. Those who have professed conversion number 1,042.

EASTERN STAR CHAPTER HOLDS SILVER SOCIAL

A social held by the Charleroi Chapter Order of the Eastern Star at the Masonic hall Tuesday evening was a decidedly interesting event. People to the number of about 150 were present. St. Patrick day colors were used in the decorations.

A musical and literary program was carried out as follows: Piano solo, Miss Grace McCleary of California; selection, Washington Avenue Presbyterian church male quartet; reading, Miss Marie Whitehead; vocal solo, Miss Ethel Hawthorne; selection, male quartet; reading, Miss Melick of Monessen; vocal solo, Mrs. George Cooper.

So pleasing were the various numbers on the program that practically all the performers were required to respond to encores. Lunch was served by the social committee of the chapter.

Consequently no permanent organization was formed, this matter being left until next Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. J. J. Cushing is the temporary president and Mrs. George L. Jones, temporary secretary. DEBATING TEAMS TO MEET TONIGHT

The California Normal school this evening will be the scene of the first inter-normal school debate ever held in the state of Pennsylvania. The opponents of the local school speakers will be representatives of the Clarion Normal school. Indications are that the event will be a complete success as word has been received from many places saying that persons interested in the normal schools of the state will be there.

The subject of the debate will be: "Resolved, That in American Cities Municipal Ownership of Light, Heat and Transportation is Preferable to Private Ownership."

Clarion has the affirmative side of the topic and will be represented by Hayes C. Shellito, Miss Lucy Bartlett and Paul H. Connor. California debaters will be Miss Marguerite Condon, Lloyd Minnieks and Clifton Van Sickle.

The judges will be Dean U. G. Chambers of the University of Pittsburg; R. G. Dean, superintendent of the Monongahela City schools and Superintendent C. J. Scott of Uniontown.

Another event of interest for this week is the appearance of the Ben Greet players at the Normal school on Thursday evening. The winter term ends Friday at noon and most of the boarding students will leave on that day to spend the vacation of 10 days at their homes. The spring term opens March 30.

A MESSAGE TO WOMEN Who Are "Just Ready to Drop."

When you are "just ready to drop," when you feel so weak that you can hardly drag yourself about—and because you have not slept well, you get up as tired-out next morning as when you went to bed, you need help. Miss Lea Damas writes from Malone, N. Y., saying: "I was in a badly run-down condition for several weeks but two bottles of Vinol put me on my feet again and made me strong and well. Vinol has done me more good than all the other medicines I ever took."

If the careworn, run-down women, the pale, sickly children and feeble old folks around here would follow Miss Damas' example, they, too, would soon be able to say that Vinol our delicious cod liver and iron remedy, had built them up and made them strong.

It is a wonderful strength creator and body-builder, and we sell it under a guarantee of satisfaction. You get your money back if Vinol does not help you. Piper Bros., Druggists, Charleroi, Pa.

P. S.—For any skin trouble try our Saxo Salve. We guarantee it.

BARELY ESCAPED WITH LIFE

Government Engineers Have Strenuous Experience While Determining Height of Mount Rainier.

In ascertaining the height of Mount Rainier last year to forever set at rest the question of its exact height the government engineers found the elevation to be 14,498 feet, and while engaged in the operation nearly lost their lives. A terrific blizzard was encountered, in fact, two ascents of the upper portion of the mountain were necessary. The first ascent of the upper 4,550 feet was begun at five o'clock a. m., August 16, and dawn broke with every indication of developing into a beautiful day. On reaching the summit the men encountered a terrific gale, clouds enveloped the mountain, preventing observations, and by noon snow began to fall. A descent was attempted but the party became hopelessly lost in a labyrinth of crevasses, the storm developing into a blizzard. To descend further was impossible; to remain was suicide. Consequently a return to the crater was ordered, and the men reached it after a two hours' climb utterly exhausted and nearly frozen. Here they sought shelter in one of the team caves, where during the long night they were thoroughly steamed and half frozen in turn. Strenuous measures were employed by the men to keep from falling to sleep and freezing to death. As it was, their fingers and ears were badly frozen. Finally, with a rising barometer, they succeeded in descending 9,000 feet to a temporary camp, making the descent in three hours. Here they recuperated and prepared for another ascent, which was accomplished on August 20, the start being made at one o'clock in the morning. Good weather was encountered and the mapping of the entire summit was finished by one o'clock.

SOME ODD DEATH REPORTS

New York World Prints Humorous Returns Alleged to Be Taken From the Records.

The chief statistician of Wisconsin, in compiling death certificates filed by physicians with the state board of health, has discovered and disclosed some of more than local interest. They reveal such aberrations of sense and science in the diagnosis of disease and the causes of death as to merit consideration from reformers who wish to put nearly every act of human life under medical supervision.

A few instances must serve to illustrate the nature of a multitude. One report is this: "Went to bed—feeling well but woke up dead." Another says: "Do not know the cause of death, but patient fully recovered from last illness." A third reported: "Last illness caused by chronic rheumatism, but was cured before death." Still another: "Deceased never had been fatally sick." And this: "Died suddenly; nothing serious."

Some reports are mere absurdities, such as: "Kicked by a horse shod on the left kidney." "Died suddenly at the age of one hundred and three. To this time he had far to reach a ripe old age." "Deceased died from blood poison, caused by a broken ankle, which is remarkable, as the automobile struck him between the lamp and the radiator." A mother is reported to have "died in infancy."

The significance of these reports lies in the fact that they emanate from the members of a learned profession, dealing with the practice of that profession.—New York World.

Comparing Their Husbands.

The girls were talking about their husbands.

"I have the dearest husband in the world," said Maude. "If he just wouldn't play cards and drink so much, he'd be perfect."

"My husband doesn't gamble, and he never took a drink in his life," put in Mabel. "He would be a model man, if I only could know what he does when he stays away from home at night."

"Ah!" smiled Margaret, "my husband is all that you wish yours could be. He has no bad habits, he comes home on schedule, he denies me nothing, there is no mystery about him. Why, he goes to church every Sunday—or at least he used to."

"Used to!" echoed the chorus. "Ah! Why doesn't he go to church now?"

"He found that it interfered with his golf!"

Margaret was voted winner of the prize package. —Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Notes and Beams.

George Ade, over a cup of afternoon tea with a group of cynical bachelors at the Chicago Athletic club, said:

"Married men declare that their wives can't keep a secret, but these men themselves are just as bad."

"A married man buttonholed me in the billiard room an hour ago and told me a frightful scandal."

"Don't let this go any further, George," he ended.

"No, certainly not," said I. "But how did you happen to hear it?"

"Oh, the wife, of course," he answered. "She's just like all women—can't keep a secret!"

Varicose Veins Tuberculous.

That varicose veins are a species of tuberculosis is the new theory advanced by Professor Landouzy, dean of the Faculty of Medicine, Paris. Before the Academy of Medicine in that city a few weeks ago he announced that he had found the Koch bacillus in the lesions of varicose veins and that tubercle plus inoculated with it developed tuberculosis.

IN CHARLEROI

The Evidence is Supplied by Local Testimony.

If the reader wants stronger proof than the following statement and experience of a resident of Charleroi what can it be?

Mrs. J. M. Wilson, 13 Third St., Charleroi, Pa., says: "One of the family had to work in a stooped over position and I believe that caused his kidney trouble. He complained a lot of pains across his back and kidneys and headaches and dizzy spells. The kidneys were in bad shape and the kidney secretions contained sediment and were discolored. He was suffering severely when I got a box of Doan's Kidney Pills at Piper's Pharmacy for him. In a short time after using Doan's Kidney Pills he was benefited. The pain in his back left and his kidneys acted more regularly. Several years ago I used Doan's Kidney Pills and they cured me of an attack of kidney trouble."

A Later Endorsement.

On January 29, 1914, Mrs. Wilson said: "I still hold as high an opinion of Doan's Kidney Pills as when I gave a statement recommending them some time ago. I advise anyone suffering from kidney and bladder trouble to take this remedy."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Wilson recommends. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

Keeping Bell Service Always on Duty

Telephone instruments, switchboards and apparatus, and the telephone line are all subject to certain ills. There must be a "doctor" and he is known as the Wire Chief.

In connection with every Bell Central Office is a testing table, equipped with apparatus so keen that not only the nature, but the approximate location of any trouble may be discovered. Reports of trouble are forwarded to the Wire Chief by the Chief Operator and an expert repairman is sent to remove the cause of the trouble, as soon as conditions will permit.

To reduce to a minimum these service difficulties the Wire Chief and his assistants make regular tests of all the lines.

The constant watchfulness of this branch of the business is another link in the chain which secures the high quality of Bell Service.
